SHAMROCK OUTDISTANCED AFTER YACHTS STARTED ON EVEN TERMS

U. S. S. KANE, OFF AMERICA'S CUP COURSE, Sept. 18.—(By Radio to The Associated Press.)—The American sloop Enterprise today completed a successful defense of the historic America's cup when she won the fourth straight race and series, four victories to none.

The white hulled American sloop finished the thirty mile triangular course at 1:50:05, making a run in three hours, ten minutes and five seconds.

It was the thirty-seventh time an American boat had beaten the successive British challengers in the 79 years during which the cup has been in competition.

British challengers have won only three faces of the forty contested, two of these going to Sir Lipton's Shamrock IV in 1920 when it won the first two races. The other victory was scored by James Ashbury's schooner Lionia, in 1871, she winning by a sailer when the defending Columbia carried away her flying jib stay hook and her steering gear.

The unsuccessful British challenger, Shamrock V, fifth yacht of the Lipton line, trailed the de-

WOMAN IS FOUND BOUND AND GAGGED OUTSIDE HER DOOR

CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Mrs. Fanny Bianucci, whose husband is circulation manager for the Herald Examiner in Evanston, was found lying in the hallway outside her apartment early today, her hands and feet tied and a silk stocking knotted around her mouth.

Police delayed questioning her because of her hysterical condition. She said a man had come to the door of her apartment, seized her and without a word had tied her hands behind her back with a stocking, wrapped another stocking around her mouth and then wired her feet together. Physicians said she had not been assaulted. Apparently nothing had been taken from the apartment.

It was the second attack upon a woman within 24 hours. Mrs. Mary Jakubiak, 44, and the mother of four children, was attacked and slain early yesterday.

GOVERNOR MOODY NOT ASKED CALL SPECIAL SESSION

AUSTIN, Sept. 18.—(AP)—If a decision to recommend a special session of the legislature to appropriate drought relief funds was reached by the state drought committee at its meeting in Haskell Monday, the committee did not report the fact to Governor Dan Moody, he said today.

Governor Moody, returning to his desk after a three-day hunting trip, said the only report he had on the meeting was a telegram saying it appeared that those who attended planned to return home and set up credit corporations to lend money to needy farmers. No mention was made of a special session.

Press dispatches from Haskell said a special session had been asked.

Lederer, wealthy Cleveland business man, was once looked upon by Broadway as "ideal," was granted a divorce in common pleas court after a brief hearing here today. It was not announced whether she had obtained her requested $25,000 alimony.

Mrs. Lederer testified her husband refused to speak to her for long periods, refused to associate with her friends, was sullen and morose, and stayed away from their home in Shaker Heights here for long periods.

They were married in 1924.

Cubit, an ex-convict who was indicted yesterday for fourteen robberies, sawed or cut his way through two cell blocks, and slugged Chas. Geier, a turnkey.

Geier's cries for help awakened Deputy Sheriff Dick O'Brien, who sleeps in the jail building. As O'Brien confronted Cubit, the latter shoved a dummy wooden gun into the deputy's stomach and ordered him to hold up his hands.

For answer O'Brien fired one shot with his revolver, killing the prisoner.

Rome Paper Has Caustic Editorial

ROME, Sept. 18.—(AP)—The Giornale d'Italia in an evidently government inspired front page note today says the Italo-French naval conversations are "not only not concluded but apparently not anywhere near solution."

"Studying, examining and discussing still are going on," says the newspaper, "consequently Minister Grandi is remaining in Rome for the present."

The note, the Giornale explains, is provoked by the "fantasies" of foreign newspapers.

LONG AND ENEMIES BURY HATCHET AND PEACE IS REALITY

MILITANT LOUISIANA GOV. PROMISES TO RE- LIEVE UNEMPLOYMENT

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 18.—(AP)—A testimonial dinner, attended by hundreds last night formally sealed a peace pact between Gov. Huey P. Long, militant 37-year-old executive, and his bitter political opponents in his successful campaign for the Democratic nomination for United States senator.

Referring to a special session of the legislature called among other things to renege municipal affairs of New Orleans the governor said his $68,000,000 bond issue for highways, port debt and schools was assured of passage, and "with in 90 days, and maybe 60, the hordes will start ringing in every hamlet in Louisiana completing a system of 3,000 miles of paved roads, 6,000 miles of farmers' gravel roads and 12 free bridges that ought to eradicate almost entirely the unemployment in the state."

Mayor C. Semmes Walmesley, leader of the old Regular Democrats, said a proposition of Governor Long, made after the election, would leave the city just $300,000 poorer than a proposition Long made several months ago.

"But that is the price of battle," Mayor Walmesley added. "We have now accepted the hand of friendship in good faith."

John H. Overton, Alexandria, referring to the blotting out of 1929 impeachment charges against the governor by the house of representatives, said the act "removed a blight not only from the governor of Louisiana, but from the reputation of the state of Louisiana as well."

MORTGAGE BANKERS URGED AID FARMING TO BETTER BASIS

DETROIT, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Mortgage bankers were urged by Chairman George of the farm board today to improve farming as one of agriculture's largest creditor groups to improve farming practices and place the industry on a more profitable basis.

In an address to the annual convention of the Mortgage Bankers Association of America Legge expressed conviction that wheat farms should be larger in size and recommended that the bankers secure this unit increase by consolidating small farms which now cannot make profits and repay loans. This, he said, would make good credit risk, "now you have two or three bad ones."

Research has shown, the farm chairman said that growers raising less than 300 acres are "hopelessly handicapped" by high production costs.

Missouri Pacific Passenger Trains Meet; One Injured

HOUSTON, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Two Missouri Pacific passenger trains collided about six miles south of Odessa, Texas, at 3 a. m. today. Only one person, O. R. Hayes, fireman on train No. 11, was injured. The cause of the wreck, Mallory McDonald, Missouri Pacific official who was on train No. 16, northbound said was "due to engineer of northbound train passing meeting point" with train No. 13, southbound.

Hayes hurt an arm and an ankle in jumping from his cab. No passenger was injured. The only damage was to the pilots of both engines.

MILLION DOLLAR ILLICIT DISTILLERY CAPTURED IN DETROIT BUSINESS AREA

DETROIT, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Police announced today they had destroyed an illicit distillery which had been doing a $1,000,000 a month business for several months.

In a raid late last night they discovered and seized the largest alcohol plant found in Detroit since the 18th amendment went into effect. The raiders said the value of the elaborate equipment and materials was $1,000,000, while conservative estimates placed it at more than $300,000.

Operators of the plant escaped by means of rope ladders from rear windows, while police were battering down doors and partitions. The building, located in the center of the uptown business district at Woodward avenue and Grand Boulevard, formerly was used by the fire department but was abandoned and sold several years ago.

The big distillery was equipped with a telephone system and a battery of elevators. There was evidence that it was operated by experts. Each vat was furnished with a bulletin board, giving the formula used and instructions as to temperatures and time of heating. There was a well designed ventilating system for carrying fumes to the roof.

Holes in the upper floors which fire fighters formerly passed had been converted into elevator shafts.

Eighty thousand gallons of grain mash was found in vats and 20,000 gallons of grain alcohol was ready for shipment. There was a crating department and evidence that five gallon tins of alcohol were shipped in carload lots by railroad siding near the building.

Storage rooms were crammed to the ceiling with materials for making alcohol, including 100,000 pounds of raw sugar and 2,000 gallons of molasses.

A stoppage in the ventilating system led to the discovery of the distillery. Persons living nearby had complained of the odors.

NOAH BEERY'S WIFE BACK IN HOLLYWOOD AND RATHER SCORNFUL HUSBAND'S ACTS

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Mrs. Marguerite Beery, reported missing by her husband, Noah Beery, film actor, was at the home of friends in Hollywood today where she said there was no mystery attached to her absence from their North Hollywood ranch.

She said she had been in Las Vegas, Nevada, to "establish a residence." Soon after her return she issued the following statement:

"I was much surprised upon my return to read I had mysteriously disappeared. There is no mystery to my absence. I went to Las Vegas to establish a residence. I may return there to make it a permanent residence."

Mr. Beery offered for information as to my whereabouts? If sufficiently large, I will have myself brought in immediately.

Beery's wife reported that Mr. Beery said I had $750 on my person at the time I disappeared. May I add that during my married with Mr. Beery of twenty-two years I have never seen $750.

Beery had said he learned Mrs. Beery had received her monthly income from the $250,000 trust fund which he established for her some time ago.

Beery reported to police Monday his wife had disappeared Sept. 8 without explanation, and asked aid in locating her. He said she had been ill and he feared harm had befallen her.

After his wife had been located, Beery asked the authorities to continue their investigation of her disappearance, declaring "I want the proper authorities to investigate this matter and prosecute anyone guilty of enticing or luring Mrs. Beery from her home. If it can be established any person or persons are responsible for her strange absence I shall lodge charges against them."

Beery said he had learned his wife had left Las Vegas yesterday and driven across the desert to Los Angeles alone.

Emil Wickman, a rancher living near Las Vegas, reported Mrs. Beery and Raymond Wells, a former film director, had been his guests for nearly a week. He said Mrs. Beery brought Wells to Las Vegas from Los Angeles in her automobile.

"I wired to Wells," Wickman said, "asking him to come to Las Vegas on a business deal and as he did not have the money, Mrs. Beery drove him over, straight through in oneday, I believe."

Wickman said he and Wells were trying to finance a motion picture company and that Mrs. Beery was interested enough to financing and to offer the use of her car.

Court records here revealed Raymond Wells sued Beery several months ago for $50,000 damages for alleged assault. Wells asserted Beery knocked him down and injured his skull. Beery made a denial and the case never was pressed. The understanding is it was settled out of court.

Two years ago Mrs. Beery started divorce proceedings but dropped them. She and Beery were married at Boston in 1910 and have one son, Noah Beery, 3rd.

The blast followed a fire which originated in the nitroglycerin mixing vat where three of the plant's 45 employees were working overtime. They ran to safety before the blaze reached stored dynamite. Nearly all windows in the town of Mukilteo, a mile distant, and many a side road when he sought to gain control of the wheel. Surviving Hood are his widow and ten children.

The fire spread to the timbered sides of the gulch in which the plant was located.

The plant was valued at $500,000.

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 18.—(AP)—A train twining northward today through the Mexican cordillera carried Dwight W. Morrow, retiring ambassador toward his own country, where in November he will stand for election to a senatorial term.

The miles of unending cañon and purple mountain ranges echoed the farewell of thousands who gathered last night at the Colonia station to see him and Mrs. Morrow off. The farewells of Mexicans to those whom they like and respect: "Vaya usted con Dios, Senora." "May you go with God."

His three years of service below the Rio Grande ended, Mr. Morrow, who came to Mexico from a partnership in the Morgan banking enterprises, took with him today the official thanks of President Ortiz Rubio and Foreign Secretary Genaro Estrada. The foreign secretary, recalling that before Mr. Morrow, Mexico maintained toward the United States a "constant attitude of defense and unconfiding vigilance," commented: "Now there remains none of the troublesome problems which existed at the time of his arrival."

Mr. Morrow's last official act in Mexico was as dean of the diplomatic corps, when in company with other diplomats, the president and members of the cabinet, he reviewed the massed colors of the Mexican army as they paraded past the golden winged monument to independence on the beautiful Paseo de La Reforma. Tens of thousands watched the ceremony, which was the final act in Mexico's celebration of the 120th anniversary of the fight for independence.

Mr. Morrow's route was across the mountains of Guanajuato, Zacatecas, Durango and Chihuahua to Ciudad Juarez and El Paso, Texas, to a ranch near Dawson, New Mexico, where he spent a few days before going to Washington to present his resignation as ambassador to President Hoover. He will go from Washington to Englewood, New Jersey, to press his candidacy for the United States senate.

TWO CONVICTS ARE KILLED IN BATTLE ON PRISON FARM

HUNTSVILLE, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Two state convicts stabbed each other to death on the Ferguson farm last night, penitentiary officials revealed today.

The men were Volmer Tinney, serving 25 years from Wilson county for robbery by fire, and Elmer Butler, serving four years from Johnson county for assault to murder. Butler was the building tender on the farm.

The fight started in the top bunk in the cell building and the two clinched, falling to the floor. Scrambling apart they drew knives and lunged at each other. Tinney's knife pierced Butler's heart, killing him instantly. Butler received some deep wounds in his abdomen, dying later in the prison hospital here.

Butler had only about three months to serve.

Prison officials said they did not know what the fight was about.

MARION TALLEY IS STUDYING SINGING IN NEW YORK CITY

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Marion Talley, 23-year-old prima donna who abandoned grand opera for a Kansas City wheat farm in 1928, has turned her back on farming and is studying singing in New York again, under Frank Laforge.

Mrs. Talley, who came to New York from her farm last August, said her wheat crop was good and her corn crop a failure, and averred she had come East to make some records. She refused to admit she was headed back to the operatic stage and was evasive when asked if her decision to abandon opera still held.

Opinion prevailed in musical circles today that she expects to return to the singing career begun auspiciously at the Metropolitan opera house in 1926, when she was 18. She spent four seasons in opera and was reported to have earned from $300,000 to $500,000.

NEW ROANE GIN IS DESTROYED BY FIRE WEDNESDAY EVENING

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed Smith gin at Roane, about eight miles northeast of Corsicana, about 8:30 Wednesday night with a loss estimated by A. G. Smith, owner, at $18,000, about two-thirds covered by insurance.

The ginhouse, boiler and engine house were destroyed, while the cotton and seed house were saved. The gin was operating for its first season, having been rebuilt during the past summer after a fire last fall.

A chemical truck sent from the Corsicana fire department when the alarm was received aided in preventing the spread of the flames.

Two bales of cotton were damaged by fire at the Drane gin Wednesday afternoon. The cotton was in the yard and both bales were slightly damaged.

GUARD SHOT IN ATTEMPTED PRISON BREAK MAY DIE

BALTIMORE, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Arthur P. Owen, Maryland penitentiary guard shot in the attempt of nine prisoners to escape over the walls late Tuesday was reported to be in a critical condition today. Five of the nine convicts turned state's evidence. Should Owen die murder charges would immediately be filed against all state's Attorney Herbert R. O'Connor said. He was before the grand jury, but it was indicated no indictments would be asked until the outcome of Owen's injuries is learned.

The man who fired the shot, according to Owen and two other guards, was Rawlings V. Whittemore, 26, who was serving 21 years for robbery. Whittemore's brother was hanged in 1926 for killing a guard in trying to escape from the same prison and two years ago two other convicts were hanged under similar circumstances.

The five who turned state's evidence today told officials that Whittemore and three others who were cornered by guards and police in the laundry after the attempt to scale the wall failed, "made us the goats." The five said they were exposed to the fire of the guards while the other four tried to use the rope ladder.

PRORATION SUIT EXPECTED BE TRIED IN OKLAHOMA CITY

CHAMPLAIN REFINING COM- PANY FILES INJUNCTION AGAINST COMMISSION

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Whether the Oklahoma corporation commission acted in violation of the federal constitution in ordering the proration of oil production may be decided in federal court here September 29 when an interlocutory injunction suit seeking to restrain the commission from enforcing its orders is scheduled for hearing.

The suit was filed in federal court late yesterday by the Champlain Refining Company of Enid, Oklahoma City and Seminole fields, the state's most prolific pools. It attacks the whole scheme of oil proration and alleges major companies have used the corporation commission and oil conservation laws as "instruments for price fixing."

The petition charges state proration orders of June 30, July 24, and August 30 of this year were in direct violation of the federal constitution which forbids any state to pass laws depriving persons of property without due process of law, or denying them equal rights and protection of the laws.

Judge Edgar S. Vaughn and two other federal judges will hear the application for the injunction. Their decision is expected and a long fight against oil proration, inaugurated in Oklahoma about two years ago when production surpassed demand and which later spread to other states.

A similar suit, filed by the C. C. Julian Oil and Royalties company, is pending before the Oklahoma supreme court. The Julian suit attacks the proration plan and asks a writ of prohibition restraining the corporation commission from enforcing its orders. Of the approximately three score oil companies cited recently by the corporation commission for alleged violation of the proration orders, the Julian company was the only one to take direct action until the Champlain suit was filed.

WETS ELATED AT RESULTS YEAR'S PRIMARY ELECTIONS WHILE DRYS CONTINUE FIGHT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Completion last Tuesday of the year's primary elections drew expressions of distinct pleasure at the results from wet leaders while the generals of the prohibition forces refrained from direct comment but took occasion to pledge themselves to resist every effort towards repeal of the dry laws.

The dry declaration was adopted yesterday, on the 143rd anniversary of the signing of the constitution. It was issued by the national conference of organizations supporting the Eighteenth amendment, which is composed of representatives from 30 national prohibition groups.

The wet view was voiced by Henry H. Curran, president of the association against the prohibition amendment, who noted that "the wet tide is still coming in."

Curran claimed wet gains in the house of representatives of 37 seats with "more to come on election day." He asserted the drys had not won a single seat in the primaries. The enthusiasm expressed at this result was tempered with the observation that "we still have a long way to go before congress catches up with the people on this question but we are on our way and we cannot be stopped."

The pledge of the prohibitionists said:

"Believing in the success of national prohibition, so completely proved by the blessings it has brought to the American people, that our most bitter opponents dare not advocate the restoration of the saloon, we declare our purpose to resist to the last every effort to repeal the amendment by which the liquor traffic is outlawed—the sure bulwark that blocks the way to the return of the saloon."

"Protesting against nullification of the constitution by repeal of the legislation, state and national, which supports the amendment, and denouncing law violation as a means of restoring the drink traffic, we call upon the patriotic citizens to join with us in our refusal to surrender to those enemies of the constitution who, by these means, seek its destruction."

In addition to straight-out victories he counted in the primaries of Tuesday, Curran said the narrow margin by which the dry William M. Butler defeated a wet opponent for the Republican senatorial nomination in Massachusetts convinced "everybody but Butler" that the former chairman of the Republican national committee would be defeated in the November election by his wet Democratic opponent, Marcus A. Coolidge.

WORK ON BOULDER DAM PROJECT NOW OFFICIALLY OPEN

SECRETARY OF INTERIOR WILBUR DRIVES INITIAL SILVER SPIKE

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Sept. 18.—(AP)—The $165,000,000 Boulder Canyon dam project, for more than ten years the dream of the arid Southwest, today was officially under way. A spike of Nevada silver, sledged into a railroad tie by Secretary of the Interior Ray Lyman Wilbur, started the first numerous construction steps yesterday.

Secretary Wilbur said to the assembled representatives of six Colorado river basin states: "I have the honor to name this dam after a great engineer, who really started this greatest project of all time—the Hoover Dam."

The spike driving ceremony marked the start of construction of the 22-mile Union Pacific branch line, which will run from Boulder Junction to the dam site.

Actual work on the dam proper will not start for a year.

Dr. Elwood Mead, head of the reclamation bureau, who will supervise construction, was taken ill just before the ceremony.

Representatives of California, Nevada, Utah, Colorado, Wyoming and New Mexico, the six basin states which signed a compact allocating water and power, were present. There was no official representa-

OPERATION COTTON CO-OPERATIVE BODY IS TOLD TO LIONS

L. E. WINNERS EXPLAINS PROCEDURE IN MAKING 90 PER CENT LOANS

L. E. Winters, of the Texas Cotton Cooperative association, was the principal speaker at the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Lions Club at the Navarro hotel at noon Tuesday, and explained in detail the methods of procedure used by the federal farm board in advancing 90 per cent loans to farmers on their cotton. J. M. Dyer, Jr., was chairman of the program committee, which was composed of O. M. Boynton and H. D. Johnson beside the chairman.

Pat Williams of Dallas, L. E. Winters, W. C. Williams and C. H. Porter, were guests at Tuesday's meeting. Johnny Garitty, well known football official, made a short talk urging the Lions Club members to purchase their football season tickets soon. At a previous meeting of the club it was decided to make it a 100 percent football season ticket club. Garitty stated after watching the 1930 Tiger machine in action, that this year's squad is the best in the history of Corsicana and has one of the best lines he has ever seen in a high school.

President Clyde Foster discussed briefly the chamber of commerce questionnaire and urged every member of the club to cooperate in having them filled out and returned as soon as possible. Ralph Stell, Jim Nick Garitty and Sydney Marks were appointed on the program committee for next week.

Changes Taking Place
Opening his talk, Mr. Winters stated that the world is witnessing changes in the method of marketing cotton, the south's greatest product, and declared that it is his opinion that before long all marketing will be done on a cooperative basis.

He pointed out that the old blacksmith has become the mechanic, thereby losing nothing in the change. The speaker went on: "Similar changes are now taking place in cotton marketing and present cotton handlers will change with the system, but not be harmed through the change, while the country as a whole will be greatly benefited thereby."

Mr. Winters asserted that the cooperative plan has been staggering in its results, and its investigators find it has been given a more enthusiastic welcome among the farmers than originally expected.

Farmer Is Beneficiary
Explaining the procedure taken by the cotton cooperative association, the speaker stated that through the cooperation of the federal farm board, the association advances a 90 percent loan on the cotton produced, to the farmer, who takes the draft to the bank and cashes it for 100 cents on the dollar. The bank in turn sends the association a statement, which is settled through the federal farm board. If cotton goes down, he went on, the association has absolutely no recourse on the farmer, and stands the loss if there is any, but on the other hand, if the market price rises, the farmer gets the advance. Mr. Winters explained that storage, insurance and other handling fees are paid by the board, but later deducted from the farmer's returns.

"Farmers are often dubious of the cooperative association, and ask questions concerning the salaries of its men," the speaker declared. "In this connection, we guarantee them to deduct nothing but a maximum of $2.50 a bale for the handling expense, and if we later find that it is only $1.50 to handle their cotton, that is all we deduct."

NEW ORLEANS MAN CONFESSES MURDER TRAVELING FRIEND

HOUSTON, Sept. 16.—(P)—A signed statement in which Clinton Kenney of New Orleans refuted an earlier story of a holdup and admitted having killed H. M. Myers after a quarrel was in the possession of deputy sheriffs today.

The statement was signed shortly after the officers took Kenney over the ground on the Crosby road near the San Jacinto river where Myers was found dead Friday, his head battered and a bullet wound in the chest.

The deputies said they took Kenney out on the road to let him repeat his original story of how Myers was kidnapped by two white men who went away with him for about ten minutes and returned without him.

Kenney and Myers, both seamen, left New Orleans last week in an automobile en route to California. Thursday night Kenney appeared in Houston and said he and Myers had been held up by bandits.

Kenney was held in jail after he reported the holdup. He had been quizzed for many hours but had stuck to the essential details of his story.

After he returned from the Crosby road trip, however, he told officers he wanted to make a clean breast of the affair.

He said he killed Myers in a fight precipitated by an argument as to whether they should stop on the road for the night or drive on.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Hopkins of Anderson, county, former residents of Navarro county, are visiting Mrs. Hopkins brother, Judge Sam B. Jordan, and other relatives here.

STATE HIGHWAY COMMISSION LETS SEVERAL CONTRACTS

AUSTIN, Sept. 16.—(P)—After awarding contracts yesterday for highway construction in nine counties at an aggregated cost of $54,558, the state highway commission today was to award 13 contracts calling for highway work estimated at $980,000.

The list of projects for today included the taking of bids on the erection of a free bridge across the Red river between Hardeman county, Texas, and Jackson county, Oklahoma, estimated to cost $50,000. Duplicate bids will be received by the Oklahoma highway commission and the contract jointly awarded.

The commissioners announced that no more county roads would be designated state highways until after the first of the year because of the lack of funds.

Contracts let yesterday and those to be awarded today will be carried out with funds furnished by the counties, the receipts of the highway department for the remainder of the year being tied to projects now under construction.

Contracts were to be let today in Motley, Harris, Tarrant, Hall, Throckmorton, Ochiltree, Hansford, Thisher, Refugio, Dallas, Carson, Bowie and Harman.

Wednesday the commission will take under consideration a $1,000,000 maintenance program, drafted by the maintenance division at the recent Governor's Highway officials said they believed the program would be approved with only slight changes.

A service of help and inspiration is being promised everybody who will attend.

After he returned from the Crosby road trip, however, he told officers he wanted to make a clean breast of the affair.

Waco's Water Supply Assured For Many Years

AMARILLO, Sept. 16.—(P)—Waco can get along without rain for three years and still have water, W. H. Deaton, superintendent of the Waco waterworks told members of the Southwest Waterworks association, in annual convention here.

He pointed to a lake holding 13,000,000 gallons of water as Waco's insurance against a water famine.

H. N. Roberts, consulting engineer of Lubbock, said that while rainfall deficiency in the drought area reached fifty per cent during the past year it averaged only 13 per cent in West Texas.

Negroes Arrested Here Indicted By Limestone Jury

MEXIA, Sept. 18.—The grand jury, in session Wednesday at Groesbeck, indicted Albert Bragner, G. B. Jackson, and George Nelson, all negroes, on charges of robbery by firearms.

They were identified as the parties who beat and robbed T. C. Kennedy at his store near Groesbeck two weeks ago. The grand jury returned 18 bills.

The trio of negroes were arrested in Corsicana and turned over to the Limestone county officers.

Eddie Smith and wife were in Corsicana Tuesday from Kerens.

SPECIAL SESSION OF LEGISLATURE IS ASKED FOR RELIEF

HASKELL, Sept. 16.—(P)—A special session of the legislature was sought today by members of Governor Moody's drought relief committee and others as a means of alleviating conditions created by the drought.

A resolution urging Governor Moody to call a special session for the enactment of legislation designed to enable the state through the counties to give financial aid to drought stricken areas was adopted by the committee. Red Cross officials, bankers and county agents meeting here yesterday.

Other resolutions endorsed organization of local credit associations, urged more liberal credit by the federal government and approved resolutions of the Wichita Falls meeting of the same drought committee.

At the same time, means of giving practical assistance were advanced with appointment of chairmen for various counties to sound out business interests with a view to organizing local production loan associations under auspices of the federal intermediate credits bank of Houston. M. H. Gossett, president of the intermediate credits bank, told the meeting federal drought aid would have to come through such organizations.

A sub-committee arranged to leave for Washington Saturday and confer with Secretary of Agriculture Hyde.

This dullness is knit into the fabric of Humming Birds—you can't rub, rub or fade it out—as America's smartest dressed women have discovered.

There is a vast difference between the dull finish produced by multi-twisted yarns and that produced by chemical methods.

The former produces a beautiful uniform finish that lasts and actually improves the wearing qualities of the stockings, while the latter soon fades out, besides having a tendency to rot the fabric.

Teague Schools Opened With Large Attendance Tuesday

TEAGUE, Sept. 18.—(Spl.)—According to Supt. L. Nottley of the Teague high school, all teachers in the faculty were busy Tuesday in the registration of pupils. In the elementary grades 535 students were enrolled the first day, while 227 were enrolled in high school the opening day.

As always, a large number of students will be enrolled later, who did not register the first day, according to the superintendent. He believes that when all enrollments have been consummated, that the number in the elementary grades will exceed that of former years, while the number in high school will approximate about the same number as last year's enrollment for that division; which, however, was larger than any preceding year.

Felt Bad After Eating

"Before I started taking Black-Draught, three years ago, my health was very bad," writes Mrs. C. C. Carson, 945 Concord St., Beaumont, Texas. "I suffered constantly from constipation. I had headache when I got up in the morning, and I felt dull and sluggish. I hardly ate a meal that my food agreed with me. Frequently I would have gas on my stomach, and felt awful."

"I read about Black-Draught, and I thought it might help me. After I had taken it a little while, I felt much better. It relieves constipation. I keep it on hand so when I need a laxative I will have it. In the three years I have been taking it, I have never found anything as good for constipation."

THE DORF'S Black-Draught For CONSTIPATION, INDIGESTION, BILIOUSNESS. Costs Only 1 Cent a Dose.

WOMEN who are run-down, nervous, or suffer every month, should take Cardui. Used for over 50 years.

CORSICANA, TEX., SEPT. 19, 1930

AUTO DOLLARS BUY MORE.

The automobile industry has furnished many a paradox, not the least of which is the tendency of public interest in motor cars to reach its apex September to February when touring is but a memory or a prospect for a majority of car owners. This is easily explained. In fact the only explanation necessary is to remind the puzzled that this is the season for automobile shows and new car models.

The year now approaching an end witnessed many revolutionary changes in automobile design and construction. And there is every indication that 1931 will see a great effort on the part of manufacturers to outdo 1930.

In the automobile world this is a buyers' market, and there is every evidence that it will continue to be. Improvements recently announced and promised for next year are to the advantage of the buyer. Car owners are getting more and more for their dollars as manufacturers solve production and distribution costs and pass the saving on to the public. Cars are getting better and prices lower.

Never before has the industry experienced such keen competition. Only an industry that is solid to the core could survive such competitive measures.

THE AUTOMOBILE IS RESPONSIBLE.

In spite of the fact that 31,000 people were killed last year by automobiles, the general accident situation affords grounds for optimism.

Accidents among children of school age have increased less than one-tenth of one per cent in the last seven years. Hundreds of industrial plants have made remarkable records in reducing their accident rates—both in frequency and severity. Had it not been for the tragic increase in deaths and injuries due to the automobile, the national accident rate would now be thirty per cent lower than it was seven years ago.

The crux of the entire matter is that we have made good progress in preventing all kinds of accidents except those for which motor cars are responsible. Safety work and instruction in schools and industries has been the means of saving thousands of lives in the last decade. This work is being carried on with increasing intensity and vast progress will be recorded in the future.

The automobile accident record will not be reduced until we take decisive means to keep the reckless, the irresponsible, and both the mentally and physically incompetent from the public highways, where they menace the lives and property of all other motorists.

Prohibition is getting considerable publicity once more. This question usually does each election year. Although we believe Governor Roosevelt is exactly right concerning state control of the liquor question we are by no means so optimistic as to believe that repeal of the eighteenth amendment is anywhere near, if it ever does occur. And another thing that is a settled fact—Texas is a dry state and as the years go by will get drier. Every time the prohibition question is put to the voters of Texas the state will vote dry. There is no argument about that.

Among the many unimportant things in the world is a cynical old bachelor's opinion of censorship.

JUST FOLKS

TWENTY YEARS FROM NOW
Twenty years from now they'll say:
"Twenty years ago
People used to act that way;
My, but they were slow!"
Customs were the customs then,
Parties used to start at ten.

"Motor cars were all the style,
Airplanes rather new; while
Mothers fretted all the time
If their children flew.
In that very distant age
Talking pictures were the rage!"

"I remember as a child
Father's radio.
Static used to drive him wild
Twenty years ago.
Television wasn't known;
All they got back then was tone."

Twenty years from now we'll be
Old and out of date.
Little that we proudly see
Will be counted great.
Youngsters then will want to know
What amused us years ago.

WITHHOLDING THE SECRET.

Strive as they may to refrain from lese majesty, the American people must at times give vent to mirth under provocation of the antics and pretensions of their public servants and politicians. To take them seriously would be the greater sin.

In Pennsylvania's heated gubernatorial contest former Governor Gifford Pinchot, zealously bidding for four more years in the state house, promises relief from the drought, unemployment and the business depression if elected governor.

The inference is that if the suffering Pennsylvania farmers, jobless and business men deny him their votes the secret of relief—his panacea for the economic ills of the commonwealth—will remain forever sealed in Pinchot's fertile mind.

Doctor Pinchot's ethics are not quite those of the medical and scientific world, which consider as public property every great humanitarian discovery and invention. He will save mankind, but at his price.

This would be a serious matter if anybody took political promises and habitual office-seekers seriously. Not even Pennsylvania's present governor went to Pinchot on bended knee to beg from him this boon for his suffering people, and the next inauguration day is still months away.

THE R. F. D.

Again the annual convention of the National Association of Rural Mail Carriers, recently in session in Detroit, aroused national interest in this department of the mail service and brought out some facts not generally known to the public. The deliberations of this association are important because its members furnish a service that has become indispensable to a very large part of the country's population.

Free delivery of mail in rural America worked social changes. Within 10 years after its founding 26,080 fourth-class, cross-roads postoffices were abandoned as unnecessary, which meant that farm folk were receiving their mail at their front doors or end of the lane instead of down at the general store.

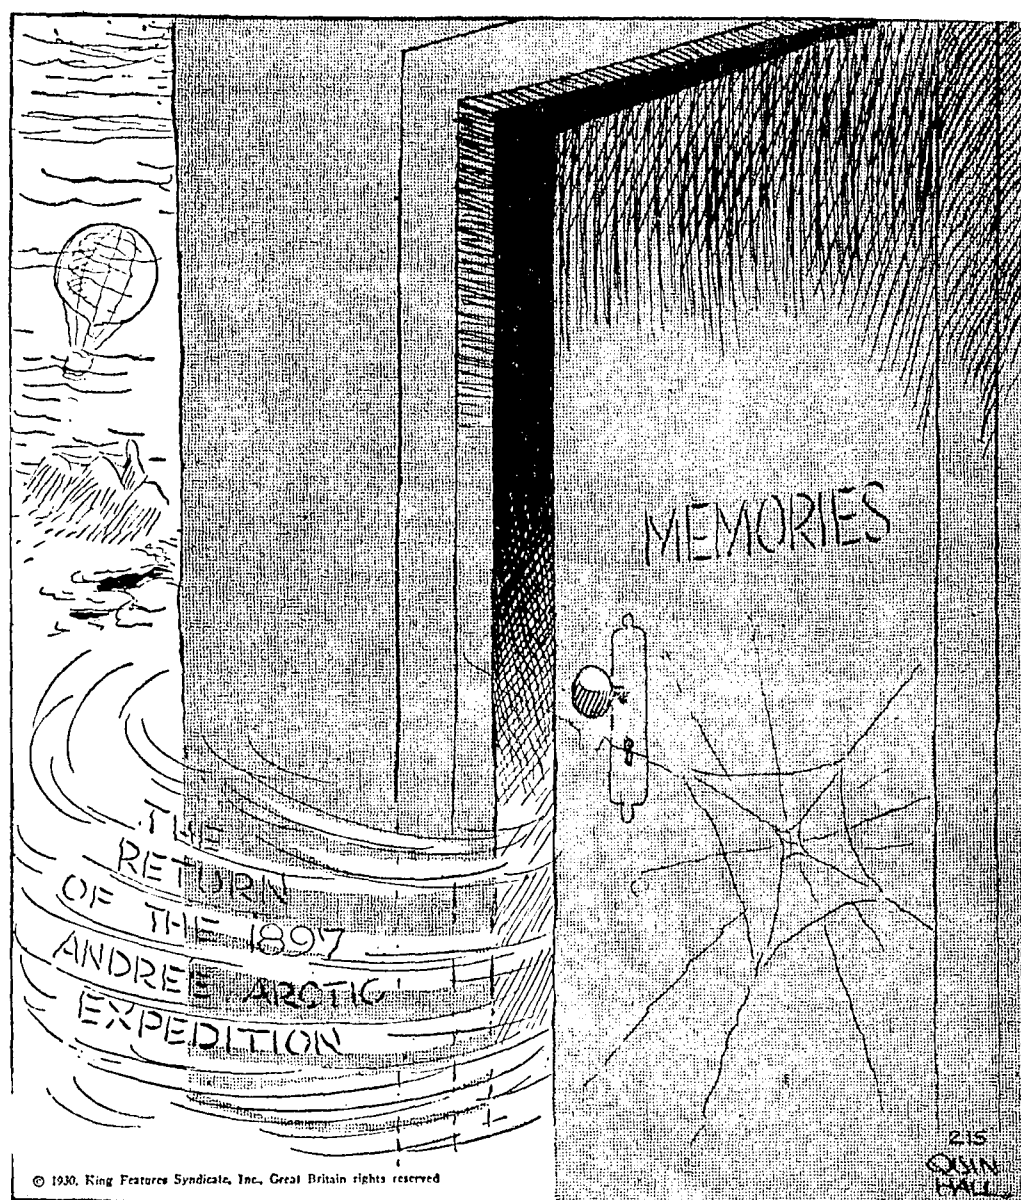

Perhaps the best yardstick with which to measure the value of this service is the mail service itself. Rural delivery was directly responsible for an immediate and voluminous increase in rural mail, for a marked jump in newspaper and magazine circulation in the country and the growth of mail merchandising to vast proportions.

No one today can understand why the arguments advanced 39 years ago against rural free delivery carried such weight. Perhaps the cost was a retarding factor. And the farmers were not so well organized three decades ago.

The irony of the thing is that the argument that rural mail delivery would check the farm-to-city migration, which swept aside all adverse arguments, was hardly based on facts. That migration didn't reach its peak until years later.

And another reason why the eighteenth amendment will not be repealed is because it is too useful to the politicians running for office when an issue is needed, and furthermore bootlegging, comes under the head of big business now.

THE CREAKING DOOR

FRUITS OF THE PRIMARIES.

An uncommonly large number of state primaries have attracted national interest this year for the reason that many of the candidates have been sort of national "issues," large numbers of citizens outside their own states desiring to see them either elected or defeated.

South Carolina, Michigan and Louisiana had a nationwide audience for their political circuses this month. And the former two sent theirs home satisfied.

Senator Blease, of South Carolina, lost the nomination for re-election because the people willed it so. Capable of bringing sound common sense to some important issues, he was yet unable to keep his own fanatical and medieval prejudices out of debates and issues where they had no place. He once too often misrepresented the better and more progressive elements of his state and played up to the less enlightened popular prejudices. James Francis Byrnes, who will succeed him, will enter the senate with seven creditable terms in the lower branch of congress.

The cry of irregularity failed to unseat Senator Couzens, of Michigan. His opponent, former Governor Chase Osborn, learned that while party regularity is still a virtue in the eyes of the electorate, personal independence is the cardinal virtue. The Michigan electorate approves a little irregularity, it would seem.

As for Louisiana, it has suited the voters there to replace a veteran and unflinching senator, Senator Ransdell, by a man whose administration as governor of that state has been marred by sensational and undignified incidents of no credit to governor Long nor to his state.

Try as they may these journalists covering the international yacht races don't seem to get the punch in their copy so that the boys in the outlying districts work up much enthusiasm. Maybe they don't get enough practice writing that stuff. It takes the baseball and football scribes to make the boys stand up on their hind legs and yell for more.

Carol wants Helen to quit a dispatch from Budapest informs us. Our guess is that Helen could suggest a good many things she would like for Carol to do, headed by the request that he go jump in the lake.

The Dixie Series followed by the World Series—then football until Christmas. The sport fan has a never-ending show in this day and time.

FILMS DIE WITH PLAYERS.

Hollywood has discovered that the public will not patronize a motion picture when exhibited after the death of the star of the film and is puzzled thereby. The movie producers are unable to distinguish between the film of a dead star and the book of a dead author, or the play of a dead dramatist, or the composition of a deceased musician, and they point out there are any number of cases where such works have only become popular after the death of their artist creator.

A bit of applied psychology would solve this movie-land mystery. The key in the solution rests in the movement launched by censors to substitute "story appeal" for "player appeal" on the screen. Fans will recall the catch phrase of that movement: "The play is the thing."

People are primarily interested in living beings, and death soon divorces that interest. The average fan goes to the movie theatre more to see a favorite actor or actress than with the expectation of seeing a good story picturized or of seeing the latest work of some scenario writer or director. And this public interest in movie folk, being something akin to personal friendship, must inevitably vanish with the death of the star.

The question why interest in the moving picture does not survive the star is equivalent to asking why nobody would read Shakespeare's "Hamlet" if the character of Hamlet should be left out of this immortal tragedy.

Yes—we believe it will be a good many years yet before these international yacht races and polo matches will crowd the baseball and football news entirely from the sport pages of the rank and file of newspapers.

A farmer stung by a bee died an hour later which should answer "Death where is thy sting?" In a bee we would say.

THAT SLAP ON THE BACK.

We have no desire to interfere with court procedure in England, but we offer three cheers for the woman in Hull who is suing another woman, a friend, who gave her a resounding whack on the back. It happened during a bridge party, and the whack was accompanied by an inquiry no more important than "Shall we have tea now?"

The man—more so than the woman—who slaps a friend on the back or pokes him in the ribs is a familiar and annoying figure in our own country. Perhaps the English woman has the solution.

The executive heads of the Busch estate showed excellent judgment when they invested heavily in Texas. More good judgment was shown by Adolphus Busch III when he came to Texas to get a bride.

If our memory serves us right somebody in the distant past offered the suggestion that the Trinity be paved—which is not such an unreasonable idea—now that ideas are being put forward.

Now that the Trinity river canal seems to be assured, according to the latest reports, it is time for Corsicana to start a campaign to get it routed by this city.

"Home runs are killing the game of base ball," says an Eastern writer. It's still fighting though, with the outfielders' backs to the wall.

Men may be practical creatures, but you seldom hear of one marrying to get a home.

France has half a million men under arms and much interest under cover.

New Vitaphone Installed at Ideal

The Ideal Theatre opens today with new Western Electric sound equipment and for the opening program have secured Paramount's glorious comedy-drama, "Queen High."

Originally "A Pair of Sixes," a famous farce comedy that wowed audiences on Broadway, on the road, and in stock for many seasons, "Queen High" is a filmization of the subsequent musical comedy produced by Schwab and Mandel, whose string of big smash-hits includes "New Moon," "Good News" and "Follow Thru."

The film was directed by Fred Newmeyer, who mastered comedy technique as director for Harold Lloyd. He also made "The Quarterback" and "Warming Up."

CUBA DEFENDED SOVEREIGNTY AND WON BEFORE LEAGUE

GENEVA, Sept. 18.—(P)—In a heated encounter before the assembly of the League of Nations today Cuba defended her sovereign rights as an independent state within the League and won.

Cuba's critic, who met defeat, was Nicholas Politis of Greece. He sharply censured Cuba for blocking entry into force of the protocol for revision of the World Court statute.

"Cuba," declared Orestes Ferrara, the island nation's ambassador at Washington, "will not submit to dictation by Mr. Politis, nor by Greece, nor by any member of the League of Nations."

Then he loudly announced that Cuba's reasons for objecting to the coming into force of the protocol must be neither challenged nor discussed by the committee.

"We entered the League regarding it as a society of nations and not as a super-state able to override the sovereignty of any member," he declared.

The discussion was closed by Chairman Scialoja of Italy after spectators and delegates had risen to their feet in excitement and persons from outside the committee room had rushed into see what all the commotion was about.

DRIVE AGAINST GANGSTERS IN CHICAGO CENTERED UPON LABOR UNION HEADQUARTERS

CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—(P)—The police hunt for 26 "public enemies" was revealed today as just a segment of a concerted finish battle against rackets and hoodlums.

Raids on 10 labor union offices directed by State's Attorney Swanson spread the warfare into another sector yesterday and resulted in police seizure of records which are expected to shed light on the efforts of underworld gangs to "muscle" into control of reputable labor groups.

The union offices were entered by seven squads of detectives under authority of warrants from Chief Justice John J. McGoorty of the criminal court, who inaugurated the major offensive against the gangs in a special charge to the September grand jury.

The police squads struck simultaneously so there would be no chance for removing or hiding the records. Assistant State's Attorneys Mueller and Lounsbury, in charge of racketeer prosecutions, said that most of the unions involved were under the domination of George (Red) Barker, William (Three Finger Jack) White and similar characters. Both Barker and White were listed by the Chicago crime commission as "public enemies" and were on the list of 26 sought on vagrancy warrants.

Union offices raided included the Municipal Clerks' Union, said to acknowledge Danny Stanton, also a "public enemy," as leader. The Union of Commission Wagon Drivers, of which Bernard O'Donnell, two of whose brothers are listed as "public enemies" is business agent; Newspaper Wagon Drivers Union, said to be controlled by Anthony (Red) Kissane and John Barry, Coal Teamsters' Union, which with its subsidiaries, is reported controlled by Barker and White; and the Filling Station Owners' Union, said to be dominated by James Belcastro, also a "public enemy."

The raiders seized the books and papers of the Marble Setters' Union and the Bill Posters and Billers' Union, while a scrutiny was made of the records of the Ticket Takers and Ushers Union in an effort to ascertain if Barker held some connection with it.

The prosecutors announced they would seek in the mass of seized records some inkling as to how "these hoodlums, gangsters and ex-convicts obtained union jobs" and also whether their control was obtained by use of the pistol.

Though Acting Commissioner of Police Alcock offered additional compensation for any policeman bringing in one of the "public enemies," the only one apprehended was Danny Stanton who happened to be in a cell when the warrants were issued. He obtained his release by providing $15,400 bonds.

Police believe that Al Capone, most notorious of the group, and the lesser figures of gangland had all sought hiding places out of the city.

Youngest Capone Held
CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—(P)—Matthew Capone, 21, youngest of the Capone brothers who have become the favorite quarry of police from Chicago to Philadelphia and Florida, was picked up on the far South Side today and locked up for investigation. Young Capone was driving his automobile when recognized.

Matthew was once arrested in Philadelphia, where he was a student while "Scarface" Al, his best known brother, was serving a jail term for carrying a concealed weapon.

Slamming Door Scares Hoodlum
CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—(P)—Somebody slammed a door in the courtroom today and Danny Stanton, gangster, Capone lieutenant and one of the crime commission's public enemies, dropped to the floor.

Assured the door slamming pre- saged nothing more dangerous than mere noise, the gangster returned to a belligerent attitude, shook his fist at newspaper photographers, clung to the back of his attorney and demanded a jury trial on charges of vagrancy, disorderly conduct and carrying concealed weapons.

BURNS PROVE FATAL
LAREDO, Sept. 18.—(P)—Esteban Saba of Nueva Laredo died today of burns received last night when firemen found him on a burning bed. They said the bed and Saba's clothes had been saturated with kerosene. Earlier Saba had executed a warranty deed to a friend and requested that he take care of everything "if anything happened," officers said.

PRESENT YEAR HAS BEEN HARD ONE ON VETERANS OF CONGRESS; MANY DEFEATED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—(P)—The year has been a hard one for veterans of congress.

S. Wallace Dempsey, chairman of the rivers and harbors committee and a member of the house from New York for 15 years, was beaten in Tuesday's primaries. So was E. E. Brown, who has served the eighth Wisconsin district since 1912.

Furnifold M. Simmons of North Carolina, in the senate since 1901, and its dean in point of service, has been defeated for re-nomination. Joseph E. Ransdell, recently beaten for the democratic senatorial nomination in Louisiana, has been a senator since 1913 and before that served in the house from 1899.

Representative Miller of Washington, who has served continuously since the 65th congress, was eliminated on Sept. 10.

Louis C. Cramton, dry leader, who was beaten by a wet in the voting in Michigan has served without a break since the 63rd congress.

The dean of the Georgia house delegation, Thomas H. Bell, another primary victim, was serving his thirteenth term.

Bell, however, was the only one of the group in the house known as the "oldtimers" who has lost.

Representative Henry Allen Cooper, of Kenosha, the dean of the house was re-nominated in Tuesday's primary. Cooper, eighty and serving his eighteenth term, is still alert and vigorous.

Others in the group who have survived the primaries include Gilbert N. Haugen of Iowa, who is serving his 15th consecutive term, John Garner of Texas, house minority leader, who is serving his fourteenth consecutive term, Speaker Lowmeyer on his thirteenth term, Fainoy of Illinois on his thirteenth term, and Pou, North Carolina, who has been in the house since March 4, 1901.

The only Civil war veteran in the house, Charles Manly Sledman of North Carolina, now in his ninetieth year, chose voluntary retirement this year after twenty years of congressional service.

He is gravely ill in a Washington hospital and may not live to complete his present term. Several other members with long service are withdrawing of their own will.

A Little Man With a Big Word Both Succeeded And Failed

Dramatic Story of Reluctant Jonah, Who, Foiled as a Runaway, Afterward Converted Ninevah; and Then Sulked in Wounded Pride, Pettiness and Provincialism.

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS.

I have repeatedly stood upon the high peak of earth which covers the ruins of the king's palace in Ninevah, and looked about at the uninhabited waste which was once a teeming capital, ruler of the world. From this height one may trace the course of the ancient walls and perceive the vastness of this proud metropolis of old. Across the Tigris river from Ninevah sits Mosul, a mongrel city, but long a center of trade and now of the Moslem. The women of Mosul use the Ninevah bank of the Tigris as a laundry.

The only inhabited section of Ninevah is the village called Nebi Yunis—"Prophet Jonah," which surrounds the traditional grave of Jonah. The exact site is a mosque and was once a Christian church. There are five other traditional graves of Jonah, an evidence of the hold his story has upon the popular imagination. I have more than once traversed, with life-and-death adventures, the route of Jonah from the Mediterranean to Ninevah; but I have never seen that he junked the journey back. So Jonah is to me one of the real and very human Old Testament figures. I am unable to accept the modern view of the Book of Jonah as only a fable. As for his sojourn for three days in the great fish, that is less of a marvel than the patience of God with the runaway prophet, or than the Divine mercy toward wicked Ninevah.

A Vivid Personality
Jonah's tale is one of the most interesting in the Old Testament; the short book which bears his name should be read through. Our own mixed-up human nature goes out in sympathy to the contradictory character of the prophet. He was at once so timid and so brave; so chivalrous and so craven; so great and so petty that we see in him a mirror of our own natures. First of all, he had a sense of duty, and he was a man of God. He had been called to be a foreign missionary. He tried to escape the call by taking ship to Tarshish, a Spanish port on the Mediterranean. He was neither the first nor the last to attempt to run away from his obligations, and from God. Earth's remotest corners are dotted with such runaway exiles, the unhappiest men alive. Small wonder that the newspapers frequently tell of such exiles who have returned to face all but death could not flee from their consciences.

Jonah was drastically taught the primary lesson that there is no getting away from God; with Him there is no near or far and He will run throughout the universe. Great storms are His messengers as truly as the still, small voice. So on the sea God again came to Jonah; and this time the noble nature of the runaway asserted itself, matching the fine spirit of the immortal sailors. It was a wiser, bigger Jonah who was cast up on the shore, to accept God's second chance.

Scuff-of-the-Neck Providence
"Scuff-of-the-neck Providence has saved me from folly and sin many a time," said a man known to me. "In spite of myself, I often have been kept from doing wrong." Thus, by force majeure, Jonah was brought back to his opportunity and to his mission. Wonder of wonders, the avowed and obedient prophet did his job well. He went to Ninevah, and fearless of mobs and of racial resentment, trod the streets of the proud and wicked city, crying "Repent!" Behind him was a dramatic experience of the power of Jehovah; so all the passion of personal conviction was in his message. It must have been great preaching that Jonah did, to arrest the attention, arouse the interest and compel the repentance of those haughty Assyrians. Nevertheless, when any people become convinced that a man is a messenger of the Almighty, they give heed to him. An Old Fashioned Sermon

Amidst the clamor of Ninevah's busy streets sounded a note that is seldom heard in our own times. It has been years since I listened to a sermon on repentance. We are willing to give ear to the man who tells us that we are as gods—the suggestion of the serpent in Eden; and to the man who proclaims that we are evolving toward perfection; and to the sophist who says that there is no such thing as sin. But the prophet of "Repent! Repent!" is not pleasant to our ears. Yet that sermon has been the hallmark of every prophet of God who has changed the hearts of men.

Arrogant Ninevah heard, and heeded. Purple and fine linen were put off and sackcloth was put on. We could wish that amidst our rapidly changing fashions, the vogue of sackcloth would come in. And ashes would be more becoming than rouge. There are evidences that God is preparing us for this raiment of repentance. The only route to redemption of which the scripture tells is this old one of confession of sin, and repentance thereof for nations as well as for men and women. Worse than hard times, worse than drought, worse than all our thronging social problems, is the grim truth that our times seem to have lost the sense of sin. When the Preacher Gets Puffed Up
How could such a stick of a creature as Jonah ever be so great a preacher? We ask the same question that God has ever asked of their success and of their earnings. The word that Jonah had unwillingly carried to Ninevah had done its work. And as a provincial Jew he had a fierce satisfaction in the prospect of doom for the heathen. There are still misguided children of God who exult in the prospect of punishment for all who do not believe as they do. Oriental Christians get satisfaction in the belief that hell will be full of Moslems; and Moslems reciprocate the same sentiment. When the Pope appeals for prayers for the persecuted Russians, a Greek orthodox prelate showed his church's historic bitterness toward Rome by declaring that Christians in Russia needed no such help.

Faber could write what few of us really can believe:
"There's a wideness in God's mercy
Like the wideness of the sea,
There's a kindness in His justice
Which is more than liberty."
"For the love of God is broader
Than the measure of man's mind;
And the heart of the Eternal
Is most wonderfully kind."

When the merciful Jehovah accepted the repentance of Ninevah, and spared the city, Jonah was puffed and sulked. He was more interested in the success of his sermons than in the salvation of the people. His message had been greater than his messenger. The prophet himself had not risen to a comprehension of the compassion of his Lord. Jonah was disappointed that God whom he regarded as the special deity and possession of the Jews, should extend His mercy to the heathen. His theology obscured his humanity.

HEALTH TOUR OF EAST TEXAS WILL BE MADE BY STATE

AUSTIN, Sept. 16.—(P)—Plans for a "health-cade" touring East Texas in the interest of instructing in health work, were announced today by Dr. J. C. Anderson, state health officer. The motorcade of about 20 cars will leave Beaumont Oct. 6 and visit 20 towns in five days.

Towns where stops will be made were announced as follows: Sibley, Bona, Kirbyville, Jasper, Houston, Hempstead, St. Augustine, Center, Tehoma, Garthage, Marshall, Jefferson, Atlanta, Texarkana, Naples, Omaha, Mount Vernon, Maude, Mount Pleasant and Sulphur Springs. The project was sponsored jointly by the department of health and the East Texas chamber of commerce.

A Second-Chance God
Jonah had been given a second chance; why should Ninevah not have a second chance, also? Piqued, resentful, disappointed, Jonah went outside the city to await its destruction. And when God told him of the Divine mercy that had been extended to Ninevah, Jonah pettishly prayed to die. He cared more for his own prestige than for the multitude of de-livered heathen. Poor, miserable Jonah—so small a soul to be the servant of so great a God!

That is the lesson of the Lesson: that God's greatness and goodness covers as a mantle all the children of men. He is no narrow national deity, but the loving Lord of all men who does not desire the death of any sinner, but would have all men come to repentance and salvation. Jonah's story is a study of a little religionist who was not adequate to his great religion. His orthodoxy was too straitened to leave room for a wider, more merciful God.

And because God's mercy exceeded his own provincialism and his credal conception, he whimpered and whined and longed for a craven's death.

Surprise Birthday Dinner For Dresden Couple On Sunday

On Sunday, Sept. 14, 1930, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Melton's children and grandchildren surprised them with a birthday dinner at their home near Dresden. They did not know that there was going to be anything like that to take place and were greatly surprised.

When their two sons and families drove up at their home it wasn't long until their daughters came, so Mrs. Melton asked them what did all of this mean. They all laughed and said just a nicely cooked birthday dinner for you and dad. And how they did rejoice to think all the children had come home once more.

Mr. Melton was 71 years old Sept. 15, and Mrs. Melton will be 65 years old Oct. 17. They have been married 45 years, and have never moved during their married life. Mr. Melton is living in the same house in which he was born and reared and has reared his family of children to be grown and married.

Those present were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Fox and daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Euster Blake of Dresden; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Melton and family of Blooming Grove; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sims and family of Dresden; Mr. and Mrs. Claude Moore and family of Drane; Mr. and Mrs. Kirkland Perry and family of Mildred; Mr. and Mrs. Lill Melton and family of Dresden; Mr. and Mrs. Bud Melton of Dresden; Mr. Melton, only brother he has living.

Mr. and Mrs. Melton have seven children, four girls and three boys, living, 15 grandchildren, one granddaughter married. All the children were present except one son, Mr. Tye Melton, and family of Rockdale, Texas and they were missed among the crowd.

There were thirty to eat dinner. You never saw so many things good to eat, already cooked and brought in and put on a table. There were cakes, pies, salmon, steak, chicken, corn, potatoes, pork and beans, lettuce, sweet potatoes, iced tea and lots of other good things.

A few pictures of the family were taken late in the afternoon, and then all journeyed towards home, rejoicing to think they had surprised mother and dad on their birthday and all home they may see many more happy birthdays to come.

MORE REPLIES ARE SOUGHT TO RECENT QUESTIONNAIRES

Although a large number of housewives returned the questionnaires sent several days ago by the Retail Trade Committee of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce headed by Clyde Foster, members of the committee have expressed a hope that a large number that have not been returned will be filled out and mailed in within the next few days.

According to Mr. Foster, not even the members of the committee will see the replies until they are tabulated and classified by the manager of the chamber, and then the phases of the blanks dealing with each merchant in the city will be given that particular firm, and information on other specific enterprises will not be given out. No names are to be signed to the query so that utmost frankness may be used in answering the questions, members of the committee have pointed out.

FARM PRICES ARE BELOW LOW LEVEL REACHED IN 1921

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—(P)—A three per cent recession of farm prices from July 15 to August 15 was said today by the department of agriculture to have sent the farm price index below the lowest level reached in 1921.

This decline followed a sharp break in the farm price level the preceding month. As of August 15 the index was 108 compared with 111 on July 15, with 123 on June 15 and 143 a year ago. From August 15 to September 10, however, price advances at primary markets outweighed declines, although cotton and wheat failed to maintain their gains in the first part of September. The gains have been most noticeable in hogs, cattle, potatoes and butter, the department said.

Texas Boy Amazes Mother

"J. C., Jr.'s stomach was often upset and he had very little appetite," says Mrs. J. C. Bradley, Mesquite, Dallas County, Texas. "He was feverish and his breath was bad. I found he was constipated."

"My mother always used California Fig Syrup, so I decided to give my boy some. It surely surprised me to see how quickly it stopped his feverishness, cleared his breath and tongue, regulated his bowels; made him a strong and energetic boy again."

The quick, safe way to cleanse and regulate the bowels of bilious, headachy, constipated children is with California Fig Syrup. Give it at the first sign of bad breath, coated tongue, listlessness or feverishness. Every child loves its rich, fruity flavor and it acts without cramping or discomfort. Appetite is increased by its use; direction is inserted; weak stomach and bowels are given tone and strength.

For fifty years, doctors have endorsed this pure vegetable product. The genuine is always marked by the word California and for that when buying or you may get an imitation.

ENTERPRISE WINS FOURTH RACE WITH EASE ON THURSDAY

fender across the finish line at 1:55:55, five minutes and 50 seconds behind.

U. S. S. KANE, Off America's Cup Course, Sept. 18.—(By Radio to the Associated Press)—The international series for custody of the America's cup, most famous of all yachting trophies, appeared to be all over but the sailing, at the ten mile mark of the fourth race today when the American defender Enterprise leading Shamrock V, challenger, by eight minutes and 50 seconds.

The Enterprise, away first from the starting line, lost her advantage after a few minutes and trailed the British boat by 200 yards. But she did not stay behind long.

Crossing over to the weather-berth and holding close to the wind, she leaped ahead like a race horse and from there to the first turn on the thirty mile triangular course steadily increased her advantage over Sir Thomas Lipton's pride and last hope to gain the trophy.

She lost all resemblance to a race and was a procession, the Enterprise so far ahead that it would take a much better boat than the Shamrock to catch her, than the Enterprise, the first footing American defender.

Shamrock Gets Even Start But Slower

U. S. S. KANE, OF AMERICA'S CUP COURSE, Sept. 18.—(By Radio to the Associated Press)—The fourth of the series of races for the America's cup was started today at 10:40 EST., right on schedule.

Shamrock again had the weather-berth as the two sloops crossed the line but Enterprise, the American defender, was footing faster and opened up a short lead.

The British challenger lost much way when she came up to the line too fast and had to pull up to avoid going over too soon.

The advantage of the start was open to dispute.

Both boats crossed the line on the starboard tack but Shamrock soon went over to port, which seemed to indicate she did not consider herself in a very advantageous position.

Enterprise followed her around a minute or two later.

The Shamrock, driving into a 14 knot breeze and a choppy sea, overcame the slight lead of Enterprise and opened up a 200 yard gap over the white hulled American defender.

Shamrock did not hold her advantage long. At 11:25 Enterprise, picking up speed with every minute, had stepped out ahead of the challenger.

Goes Like Race Horse.

Going like a racehorse she had opened up a lead estimated at a mile, completely reversing the progress of the first 20 minutes.

Shamrock, which had held in for the shore where the sea was smoother, apparently realized that she was losing valuable ground and shortly after 11:30 came around.

Vanderbilt put his boat over on the starboard tack a moment later without losing any of his advantage.

Enterprise continued to increase her advantage and at 11:45 was a mile and a half ahead.

Enterprise rounded the ten mile marker at 12:03:15.

It took the American sloop only one hour, 23 minutes and 15 seconds to make the ten mile beat to windward, fast going in the face of the 14 knot breeze.

Shamrock was an estimated mile and a half behind.

Wind and water conditions indicated a run of probably not more than an hour on the second ten mile leg.

Enterprise rounded the twenty-mile marker at 12:55:06.

Shamrock rounded the turn at 1:01:55, seven minutes behind the defender.

It took the American boat only 51 minutes, 51 seconds to make the 10-mile run before the wind on the second leg.

Both boats made the turn nicely and set out for home with the wind on their beam, apparently logging almost as many miles as they did on the run before the wind.

The time margin of the Enterprise at the 20-mile turn, with each boat logging around 12 knots, indicated a lead for her of between a mile and a quarter and a mile and a half.

Overstreet referred the case to the grand jury.

Harvest From $150,000 Farm Reaches $400

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—(AP)—A group of young Agrarians on New York's lower East side reaped a four hundred dollar harvest of peanuts, tobacco and corn yesterday from a $150,000 farm.

The reapers were East Side children who have been tilling plots this summer in the great open spaces of Seward park, where the farms are six by four feet.

The farming, superintended by the educational alliance, was designed to show the youngsters what a goober, a crop of tobacco or a stalk of corn looks like in its native state, but it earned each of them a few cents in spending money and kept them reasonably busy through the summer.

Farm relief is, in Seward Park as elsewhere, a pressing issue. The city's sons of the soil were pretty furious when workmen thumped up half of their Tom Thumb acres in building a subway.

plane. No trace of the "stick" or propeller could be found.

The motor plowed into the ground, making a large hole. The fuselage was folded into a small bundle. Several braces and struts were wrapped around Miss Alexander's body.

An explosion in the gasoline tank was thought to have caused the crash.

Miss Alexander's flight officially began at Agua Caliente, Mexico, shortly after 1 a. m. She landed her plane, christened the Agua Caliente, at Lindberg Field for checking.

A low fog swept in from the sea, but Miss Alexander was thought to have hurdled it shortly after her eastward takeoff, having gained an altitude of 500 feet. How she happened to be flying close to the ground later was not determined.

The aviatrix had planned to stop only at Wichita, Kansas, which she had expected to reach at 7 o'clock (CST) tonight. Miss Alexander was born at Irving, Kansas, in 1906. It was there in 1919 when she first rode a plane as a passenger with an itinerant flier, that she decided to become an aviatrix.

Worked for Goal.

In 1928 she came to California, earning her way to San Diego by driving a cab for tourists. She began carrying out her ambition to fly by working and saving money for instruction. She worked in a beauty shop and also as a waitress. She enrolled for an aviation course and quickly showed aptitude.

On Nov. 17, last year, although she had less than 20 hours training and instruction, Miss Alexander passed the rigid tests prescribed by the Federation Aeronautique Internationale and qualified to try for

Deputy Seeking Housewife Finds Tot With Dolls

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Ruth Ellen Federick was telling her dolls today how their mama almost got into court.

Ruth Ellen, listed as a "house wife," was sought by a deputy from the sheriff's office after she failed to appear and answer to her name, included on a long list of prospective jurors.

The disgruntled deputy returned to report that Ruth Ellen was a "house wife" all right—in a doll house. She is only seven.

an aviation record recognized by that organization.

The next day she went aloft in a light plane, soared to a height of approximately 18,000 feet and established a world record for women fliers in planes of less than 100 horsepower.

Less than three weeks ago Miss Alexander added another feat to her achievements by making a non-stop flight from Vancouver, B. C., to Agua Caliente, Mexico, in 18 hours. She was the first woman flier to accomplish this.

Before she took off from Lindbergh field Miss Alexander jokingly told reporters that if she cracked up to "send me purple pansies—I like them best."

Man Who Killed Brother-in-Law Is Released On Bail

HOUSTON, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Tony Biamonte, Jr., 23, was free on $2500 bond today following shooting near Stafford Wednesday afternoon in which Joe Todora, 28, who married Biamonte's sister a week ago, was slain. The killing occurred at the Biamonte home.

In a statement young Biamonte said he shot Todora when his brother-in-law brought his bride back home and said that he "didn't want her any longer."

Preliminary hearing for Biamonte will be held Monday before Justice C. D. Myers at Richmond.

HOUSTON, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Sheriff Collins of Fort Bend county today was holding Tony Biamonte, Jr., in connection with the fatal shooting yesterday of his brother-in-law, Joe Todora, 28, at the farm of Tony Biamonte, Sr., near Stafford. Todora married Janie Biamonte last Saturday in Houston and the couple had just returned from a brief honeymoon trip to San Antonio.

ANOTHER SON OF FIGHTING BOB IN POLITICAL ARENA

WILLIAM M. BUTLER WINS
NOMINATION FOR SENATOR IN MASSACHUSETTS

(By The Associated Press.)

The republicans of Wisconsin want young Philip F. LaFollette for governor. That stood out today in the almost complete compilation of votes cast yesterday in party primaries in three states.

Massachusetts republicans evidently favored the dry William M. Butler as their nominee for the senate, over Eben S. Draper, anti-prohibitionist. Butler held a good lead with only a few precincts yet to report.

The LaFollette majority in defeating Governor Walter J. Kohler's attempt for renomination reached upwards of 100,000 as the final tallies dwindled in.

Democrats in Massachusetts decided to put up Marcus A. Coolidge, a wet, against Butler.

Governor Frank G. Allen, a dry, was renominated by the republicans.

The democratic opponent to Governor Allen will be Joseph B. Ely of Westfield, whose nomination for the governorship was conceded by former Mayor John J. Fitzgerald of Boston, his nearest opponent.

Veteran Is Defeated
New York state's primaries, in which national interest was limited to nominations for the house, showed the defeat of Representative S. Wallace Dempsey, republican of Lockport, veteran chairman of the house rivers and harbors committee. His successful opponent, Gresham Andrews, favored dry law repeal.

Representative Ruth Baker Pratt was given the republican renomination in the silk stocking 18th district. Upsets did not appear likely in the other races.

A convention of Delaware democrats yesterday chose former Senator Thomas F. Bayard, a wet, as their candidate for the seat held by the republican Senator Daniel O. Hastings. The latter, a dry, has his party's nomination to succeed himself. A plank advocating repeal of the 18th amendment went into the democratic state platform.

Wets Gained Two Wisconsin Seats

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 17.—(P)—Three new faces in the Wisconsin congressional delegation appeared likely today as late returns added emphasis to a switch in voting sentiment.

The net change appeared to be a gain of two for the wets. The progressives gained one over the conservative faction of the republican party.

Congressman Merlino Hull, seventh district, apparently lost to Gardner Withrow, wet progressive, the eighth district polling indicated that Congressman E. J. Browne, dry progressive, the sixth district, were all the candidates opposed prohibition, saw the evident victory of Phil Lehner, a progressive, over W. J. Campbell of Ashkosh. The election was for the unexpired term of the late Florian Lampert, and for a new term. The other six incumbents seemed sure of victory.

SHORT SESSION LOUISIANA LEGISLATURE CALLED WORK ON IMPORTANT LEGISLATION

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 16.—(P)—The Louisiana legislature, in answer to a call by Gov. Huey P. Long, will meet tonight in special session.

The legislature will, under the terms of the governor's call, be limited to eight days and may, if the chief executive's hopes be fulfilled, complete its work in five days.

In his proclamation Governor Long specified the following as subjects for the action and consideration of the law-makers:

The $68,000,000 road bond issue, which provides for the funding of an additional two cents of the gasoline tax. The road bond amendment will have incorporated in it an increase of the gasoline tax from 4 cents to 5 cents, the extra cent to be apportioned equally among the country public schools, the port of New Orleans, and the port of Lake Charles.

To provide for the construction of a new capitol building.

To provide funds for the completion of the intracoastal canal.

To provide for the re-financing of the city of New Orleans.

To provide funds for the construction and maintenance of roads and streets in the city of New Orleans.

To provide for the building of an airport in New Orleans.

The call for the special session was issued only a few hours after a caucus of members of the New Orleans regular legislative faction.

It was reported that the faction leaders, who opposed Long in his recent victorious campaign for the United States senate, decided at the caucus to support the governor's measures at the short legislative assembly, as a general step toward burying the hatchet.

United States senator over his wet rival Eben S. Draper, Hopedale manufacturer in the Massachusetts primaries. Marcus A. Coolidge, former mayor of Fitchburg, a wet, was nominated.

Oppose him in the November elections.

With only 25 precincts missing out of 1649 in the state, the vote for Butler was 159,095 as against 150,550 for Draper.

Joseph B. Ely, mayor of Newburyport, the third republican candidate for the senatorial nomination polled 22,216 in the 1,624 precincts.

Coolidge, with 81,319 votes, had a comfortable plurality over Joseph F. O'Connell, Boston lawyer and closest of his four rivals.

O'Connell polled 54,446; Eugene N. Ross, former governor, 12,738; Thomas C. O'Brien of Boston, former district attorney of Suffolk county, 44,990 and Peter J. Joyce of Boston, 6,172.

Governor Frank G. Allen easily won renomination, polling 300,018 votes as against 24,414 for Mayor John D. Dever of Malden. The democrat to oppose him, Joseph B. Ely of Westfield, received 116,704 votes against 84,206 for John F. Fitzgerald, his nearest rival.

John J. Cummings of Boston, was third and last with 12,646.

Wet Ahead in Second
In the republican congressional contest in the second district, Joshua L. Brooks, wet, backed by prominent republican leaders, was running ahead of his one wet and two dry opponents, with 31 precincts out of 91 reported.

Brooks had 3899 votes against 1333 for William H. Felker, dry former mayor of Northampton, 661 for Frank C. Hinckley, wet, and 319 for Mrs. Ella M. Roberts, dry.

The present democratic congressman from that district, William J. Granfield, a wet, was unopposed for renomination.

Congressman Frederick W. Dalinger, dry republican, appeared assured of renomination over Michael A. Fredo, wet, who appeared in the eighth district.

In the democratic contest in the same district, John P. Brennan appeared to be winning from Michael J. Mahoney. Both are wets.

DeWitt Clinton DeWolf was first in a field of five wets in the first congressional democratic contest. Ninety two of the 138 precincts gave DeWolf 2043 votes against 1330 for Thomas F. Cassidy, 1083 for Allen A. O'Hearn, 162 for Hugh McLean and 184 for George E. Haggerty.

The winner will oppose Congressman Allen T. Treadway in November. Treadway had no opposition for renomination by the republicans.

BOSTON, Sept. 17.—(P)—William M. Butler, dry, former chairman of the Republican national committee, led Eben S. Draper, wet, for the Republican senatorial nomination today.

Returns from 1512 of the 1649 precincts gave Butler 144,204, Draper 135,309, Mayor Gillis of Newburyport 20,584.

Gov. Frank G. Allen, Republican dry, and Joseph B. Ely, Democratic modificationist, were nominated by their respective parties to oppose each other in the gubernatorial election.

Allen, who did not campaign but stood on his record as governor, was renominated by an overwhelming majority over former Mayor John D. Dever of Malden, who likewise did not campaign actively. Dever did not make an issue of prohibition but announced himself as a candidate representing the common people.

Ely's nomination was conceded by his opponents, John W. Cummings of Boston, and John F. Fitzgerald, a former Boston mayor, long before the tabulation of the vote.

Allen polled more than 12 votes in 1512 precincts for every one cast for Dever for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, the total being 270,983 for Allen and 22,010 for Dever.

The same precincts gave for Democratic governor:

Cummings, 11,504; Ely, 106,723; Fitzgerald, 76,397.

Marcus A. Coolidge won the Democratic nomination for senator. In 1512 precincts he had 73,856 votes, Joseph F. O'Connell, former representative, was next with 49,602.

Thomas C. O'Brien, former Suffolk county district attorney, was third with 41,270 votes. All three arrived in the state yesterday.

Former Governor Eugene N. Ross, and Peter J. Joyce, Boston drys, were in the race.

Wisconsin Rallies To LaFollette Banner

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 17.—(P)—The name LaFollette once again has evoked a thunderous "Yes" from republican voters of Wisconsin.

They nominated Philip F. LaFollette, youngest son of the late Robert Marion LaFollette, as the republican candidate for governor in a statewide primary yesterday.

His majority may reach 110,000. Walter J. Kohler, the manufacturer who swept into office two years ago as a "businessman candidate," was swept out on the LaFollette landslide.

Tot vote in 2,341 out of 2,824 precincts was:

Kohler, 211,672; LaFollette, 315,820.

LaFollette, assured by unbroken precedent of election this fall, will join his brother in public office to add a new chapter to the LaFollette tradition. The brother, Robert, Jr., is United States senator from Wisconsin. He fought side by side with Philip in the campaign.

The younger LaFollette, only 33 years old, successfully surmounted the criticism that he was too young and too inexperienced. His fight was to support the principles, brought up to date, which split the Republican party in Wisconsin nearly 30 years ago.

He was charged with fomenting a dynasty; with being a demagogue; with stirring up discontent. His answer was a repeated demand that the state vote out Kohler as a member of the administration group which he held responsible for unemployment and the business depression.

Not only did LaFollette sweep everything before him, but his running mates in the official cabinet apparently did likewise. Soft-spoken "Sol" Levitan, who gave the only bright touch to an otherwise grim campaign, was renominated for state treasurer the fifth time.

In congressional races results remained in doubt, although at least five progressives were assured of

JUDGE DISSENTS IN DECISION ON SUNDAY WARRANTS

DECLARES WILL ALLOW BOOTLEGGERS WORK ONE DAY A WEEK UNMOLESTED

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 17.—(P)—Judge Will A. Chappell, republican member of the state criminal court of appeals, filed a dissenting opinion today to the court's decision which he said held that a search warrant cannot be served on Sunday unless the officers concerned can show in advance that there has been a breach of peace.

If the decision is allowed to stand, Judge Chappell asserted, bootleggers will be permitted to operate virtually unmolested one day a week.

Judge Chappell declared that the laws do not prohibit in any way, the serving of a search warrant on Sunday. It is up to the defendant, not the state, he contended, to show there was no breach of the peace.

The decision was made in a Canadian county case in which a farmer was arrested for possessing liquor.

Chappell characterized the case as the "most far reaching to come before the appellate court in years."

The attorney general's office has asked a rehearing.

Charles E. Hammersley, Democratic candidate for governor, was unopposed, as was the rest of his party. The Democrats are the minority party in Wisconsin and although their vote has not been totaled, it is expected to be between 50,000 and 60,000.

Dairy Products Expected Remain At Lower Levels

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—(P)—The expectation that prices for dairy products, including butter, will advance moderately during the autumn but remain at a lower level than for several years past was expressed today at the department of agriculture.

This view was predicted upon a trend toward expansion in the dairy industry. In a report describing the dairy outlook the department said while the drought caused heavy damage to production during the past season supplies of roughage and hay are ample in the most important dairy sections and the decrease in fall production is not expected to be as heavy as the decrease during the summer months.

REPEAL PRO LAW ADVOCATED BY U. S. OFFICER WHO QUILTS

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—(P)—Charles H. Tuttle has announced his resignation as United States attorney for the southern district of New York in a statement urging repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

As a substitute for the amendment, he advocated a constitutional guarantee outlawing the saloon system and private traffic in liquor, and giving the federal government full power to assist in enforcement in those states which desire to retain prohibition.

He advocated state control, sale and distribution of liquor in those states which desire to go wet.

Pending legal action, he urged strict enforcement of the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act with full use in New York state of the nuisance law to abolish "plague spots of the liquor traffic."

Mr. Tuttle said his resignation had been forwarded to President Hoover to take effect at his pleasure and not later than November 16.

In his formal statement Tuttle said he was not a candidate for public office and did not wish to be considered in that respect.

The statement was given out after he had held a conference with William J. Maler, chairman of the republican state committee.

Tuttle has been considered as a likely candidate for governor and his position on the liquor question has been awaited with interest by party leaders.

ITALY AND GERMANY JOIN PLEA FOR DISARMAMENT AS MESURE TOWARD FULL PEACE

GENEVA, Sept. 16.—(P)—The voices of two neighbors of France, Italy and Germany, today were joined with those of British foreign Secretary Arthur Henderson and others in a plea for drastic measures toward disarmament without waiting for security.

Signor Scialoja, spokesman of the Mussolini government in the absence of Foreign Minister Grandi, declared in the League of Nations assembly that Italy is still ready for a disarmament agreement which will reduce armaments to the very lowest level consistent with national safety.

Closely following upon the address of the Italian statesman, Germany's foreign minister, Julius Curtius, announced his own emphatic agreement with the principles enunciated by his British and Italian colleagues, in their appeal for the execution of that provision of the Versailles treaty which limits the victorious powers in the world war to enter an agreement for general reduction of their armed forces.

The position of these leaders, that disarmament is the world's greatest immediate need and must not wait upon security for its realization, is a direct negation of the French thesis that disarmament must follow security.

Great Britain, Italy and Germany also are generally agreed, their spokesmen have indicated, that any scheme for European collaboration to solve the economic problem must be worked out in the League of Nations itself.

Dr. Curtius was heard with great interest by assembly observers in view of the result of Sunday election in Germany, which sharply reduced the strength of his party in the Reichstag and inflated the representation of the German nationalists.

The tone of the foreign minister's address was regarded as quite moderate. He reiterated his former declaration that, regardless of results of the election, the German foreign policy would continue to follow the conciliatory lines laid down by the late Chancellor Stresemann.

TRIO OF ROBBERS HELD UP SOUTHWEST BUS NEAR ATHENS

ATHENS, Sept. 17.—(P)

—Early days in Texas before advent of the railroads when stage coaches were frequently held up and the passengers robbed, were recalled today after the robbery last night by three men of those riding on a bus on the Southwest Transportation company at Poelike, 15 miles east of here.

E. L. Cross, driver of the bus, stopped to pick up what he believed were three passengers. As he reached out his hand for the fare he was told to "stick their hands above his head one of the men went through the coach relieving passengers of their money and valuables. The loot amounted to $45 in cash.

A woman casually dropped her purse in her lap and held up her hands. Probably imbued with old-time chivalry, the man passed up the purse, which contained $30.

A watch taken from a man was returned after one of the hold-up men decided to take it would only serve to make identification easier.

Three men were arrested shortly after the hold-up and were being held in jail.

Officers said one man had made a statement and implicated a man who had been arrested. Officers said they were told what they could find the money taken from the passengers.

A woman passenger previously had identified the suspect.

TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND PERSONS IN CHINA ARE FACING STARVATION NOW

SHANGHAI, Sept. 16.—(P)—Two hundred thousand persons are facing death by starvation near Cheng-cheng, Honan province, as the result of warfare, bandit depredations and floods, said a Chinese press dispatch from there today.

The entire number is doomed unless immediate aid is given the state authorities informed the nationalist government at Hankow.

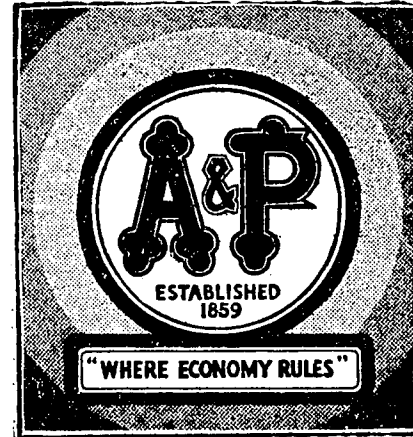

The afflicted area within the zone suffering from famine during the past six months, has been reduced to famine principally because of continual levies of the various war lords.

Militarists, said the dispatch, have taken foodstuffs, carts, mules, cattle and seed grains, rendering the people incapable of sowing crops and otherwise preparing for winter. Bandit and the floods completed the destruction.

HOUSTON, Sept. 17.—(P)—The city was being searched today for two well dressed young bandits who opened fire on a girl cashier and a customer Tuesday night after taking approximately $200 from the cash register of the Robert Vickers cafe.

The customer, M. L. Wallace, 22, was shot twice in the right leg. The cashier, Miss Edna McCarter, 22, escaped injury.

One of the bandits shot three times with Miss McCarter and Wallace followed the pair to the sidewalk. One bullet lodged in the door of a sedan parked in front of the cafe.

Arcos was sentenced to die for the murder of Joe Barrientos, a grocer. Two others were killed at the same time, but Arcos was tried only for one death.

THE METAMORPHOSIS OF LOVE

IV. Wedded

The key note of our thought so far has been that love is self-seeking. Always it is self-development that leads one on. The same holds true when a man takes to himself a mate who becomes to him a part of himself and makes him complete. How intimate the blending may be is shown by the ravages that death makes. When it snatches away the truly wedded partner, life becomes barren and desolate for the one that is left.

Adolescence is the period of love's awakening. It is really the beginning of love's extroversion, of its turning out to the world about us. Something in us demands completion; and as unerringly as the tiny rootlet grows in the direction of water for thirsty plant, so does love send out its antennae until it picks up from the ether just the repose that will meet its need.

Love of the other sex it must be; for male and female are dissimilar parts of one essential whole. When a youth attaches himself to another youth, or a girl falls in love with another girl, it is as if the cutter should supply us with two handles and no knife-blade; or as if the shoe maker turned out only uppers and provided us with no soles for treading merrily on life's roughest road. Unless each without the other, the man's hand will lose its cunning for world affairs unless to its strength is added the delicacy of touch of a woman's intuition. A woman hoping to find in another woman a sense of completeness will fail to find the strength that would back up her own special genius. Far better to remain single and solitary than to be unequally yoked with one of the same sex—a course which leads only into the blindest of blind alleys.

The fourth phase in the metamorphosis of love rightly manifests itself as extroversion, for the lover seems to forget himself in the loved one. But this seeking out of some flood tide to blend with one's own is, after all, a move toward gain immortality. The token of that immortality is the little child. He comes to bless the union, as they two become one in body and spirit. The child will carry on the life they two must eventually yield up.

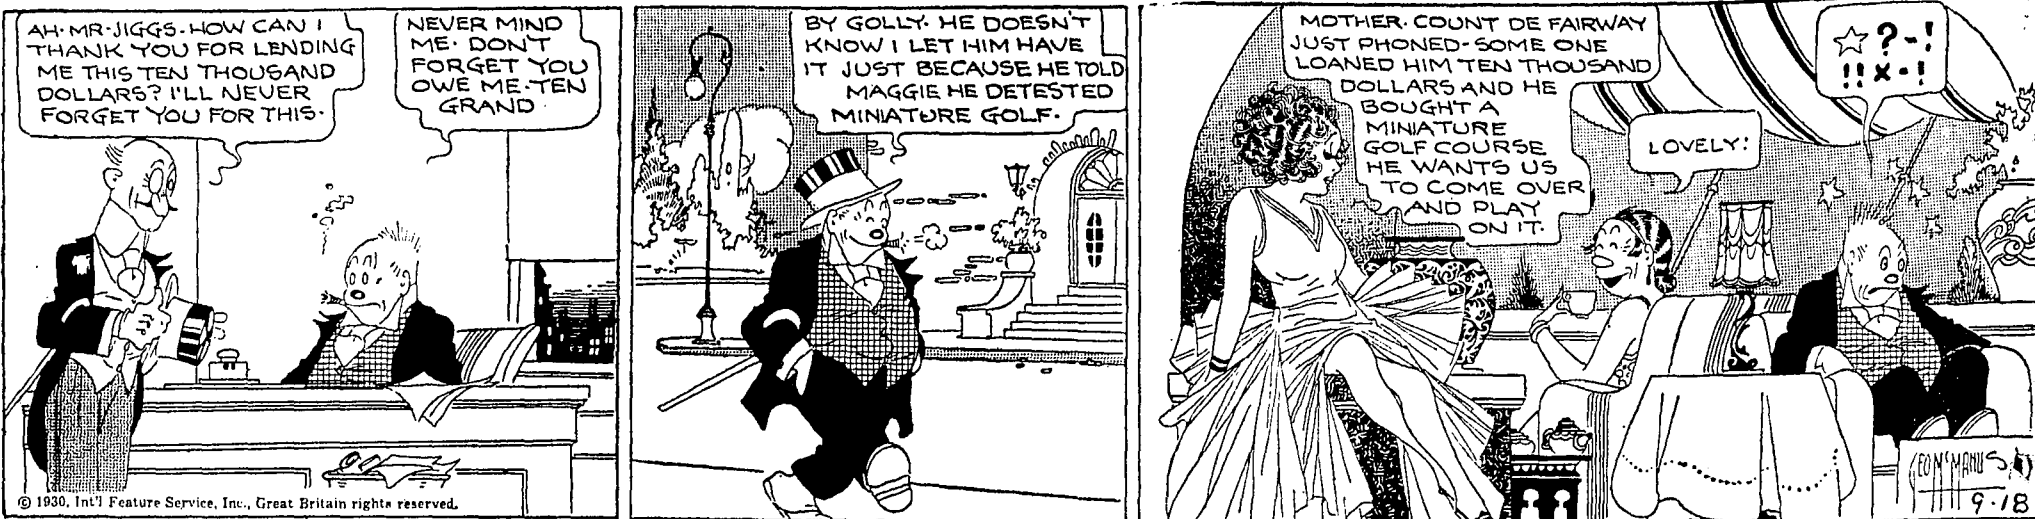

The urge to live that characterized the baby in his vegetative role, that marked the lad as his self assertion grew, that plunged the youth into the fury of ardent love making—that same urge to live drives every individual into a passion for children, however little he may recognize the direction of his own impulses. He must perpetuate himself, and marriage is the means thereto.

It is true that his life may be deflected into some substitute channel, like creating a business or a painting. But in it all and through it all will thrust the urge to live again in the loved lines of a little son, or a cherished daughter. Sooner or later those who choose a marriage only for companionship will find themselves drifting apart. Life will lose its zest except as they allow the stream of love to follow its natural course. They must have the oneness of wedded life, and the fruition of little children in their own image. Young hands must come to the tasks that the parents are later to give up.

Children give us physical immortality; and if husband and wife are one, they will impart their own spirit to their children and so live on in them. Nature is our wisest guide; may we give her free hand as she brings about the final metamorphosis of love!

TIGERS PLAY ENNIS ON TIGER FIELD IN SEASON'S OPENER

STATE HOME JOURNEYS TO CLEBURNE, I. O. O. F. TO MALAKOFF

Corsicana's three high school football teams officially open their 1930 schedule Friday afternoon at this week and plenty of football will be available for the fans of Corsicana and Navarro county during the remainder of the gridiron season.

One game is scheduled to be played in Corsicana—the Tigers meeting the Ennis Lions, class B club, which are reported to be in the best of condition. The game will be played on Tiger field and will start at 4 o'clock. Little is known of the strength of the Ennis club, but the Ennis team is a fighting aggregation, and due to the smaller club, it is expected that the Lion mentors have been able to further develop their plans.

The coaches stated that they thought visitors on the field detracted the attention of the boys from their work, and that the interest of the crowd of the team all fans were asked to stay away from the field during practice periods.

Tiger field is in the best condition it has been in years. Coach Pierce and members of the team have spent much time during the summer tending the turf on the playing field.

A good attendance is anticipated at the game Friday afternoon as the fans of Corsicana want to get a line on the prospects for the approaching season in the Tiger ranks.

The State Orphans' Home Lads, 1928-1929 champions of class B, district 14, interscholastic league, are expected to handle the game.

The I. O. O. F. Home, playing its first year in the district 14 interscholastic league, opens the season Friday in Malakoff against the Malakoff Miners. The team is in mid-season form and has been training more than a month. A real tussle is expected.

Paul Hall, half of the Tigers, who has been out with a twisted knee, is reported improving steadily this week. He will be ready to return to the lineup soon. Nelson Ross, half, formerly a line-man, is out with a sprained ankle and will probably be out of the lineup for a week or two at least.

FEAR UNEMPLOYMENT RESULT MECHANICAL PICKER OF COTTON

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—(AP)—A state industrialist disagreed today with a department of agriculture official as to whether the advent of the mechanical cotton picker would create an unemployment problem.

Dr. W. J. Spillman of the United States bureau of agricultural economics speaking at the inter-American agricultural conference, asserted that since a practical cotton picker now had been found, the unemployment problem is a possibility.

Dr. George M. Rommel, industrial commissioner at Savannah, Ga., replied that in the South do not regard as serious the question of what to do with labor thrown out by the mechanical picker, since "there is no record of cotton picking sections starving to death."

Spillman predicted a revolution that will affect the cotton industry more than wheat growers were harmed by the use of machinery. He said he did not know what would become of those who now grow cotton since dairying already is overworked.

Dr. Rommel based his more favorable outlook on new uses for cotton. One of these, he said, was the probable consumption of cotton for cellulose manufacture when the construction of the cellulose pulp mill has been definitely established.

The Georgian also cited the increasing use of cotton seed oil for food.

Chopping Contest Attracts Attention

TEAGUE, Sept. 17.—(Spl.)—A wood chopping contest furnished amusement for a vast throng of people on Main street of Teague Monday afternoon. A herculean young negro, Elie Gibson, was pitted against Peter McLaren, the world's champion wood chopper, in chopping a log through which was approximately 18 inches in diameter. A prize of $50 was offered to the man who cut the log in once and a half of the time needed by McLaren.

Elie Gibson's time was 3 minutes and 43 seconds, while McLaren's time was 1 minute and 45 seconds. Gibson did not win the prize.

Teague Lions Have Tough Schedule

TEAGUE, Sept. 18.—(Spl.)—Other games have recently been added to the Teague Lions' schedule. The schedule now stands: Sept. 19, at Athens; Sept. 20, at Athens; Oct. 2, open; Oct. 10, Kesse at Kesse; Oct. 17, Groesbeck at Teague; Oct. 21, Normangee at Normangee; Oct. 31, open; Nov. 7, open; Nov. 14, Coolidge at Teague.

SPORTS NOTES

By PAUL MOORE, LIGHT SPORTS EDITOR

Football season will be started in earnest Friday. Corsicana meets the State Home Lads, built, will be out for several weeks with a broken arm. Knott will be sorely missed in the Cleburne contest.

A big crowd is anticipated at the game here Friday afternoon between the Ennis Lions and the Tigers. Several Bengals are on the injured list, but a good team will be available and plenty of scrap will likely be seen.

Home run hitters Wednesday included Wilson, Chicago Cubs, 2; Heathcote, Chicago Cubs, 2; Boston Braves, 3; Subi, Pittsburgh; Frisberg, Philadelphia Phillies; Boone, Brooklyn; Hafez, St. Louis Cardinals; Averill, Cleveland, 4; Akers, Detroit.

The Fort Worth Cats took advantage of errors and walks in the eighth inning of the opening game of the Dixie series, Wednesday afternoon and won, 4-3, after the Southern association champions had apparently won the game. Three runs were made by the Cats in the eighth inning without a base hit.

Notice when Flint Rhem, St. Louis Cardinals pitcher, claimed he was taken for a ride by armed men who forced him to drink a quantity of whiskey. He is out of condition, and his falling from the water wagon does not help the Cardinals cause any. Wonder why Grover Cleveland Alexander did not think of that excuse on one of the occasions he got in trouble in Dallas, or when there were several thousand on hand at Toledo to welcome him after being released by Dallas.

Eleven barnstorming games will be played in Cuba after the conclusion of the National league by the New York Giants and the Pittsburgh Pirates.

As soon as the Ennis game is behind them, the Corsicana Tigers will begin training hard for their invasion of Greenville next week when the strong class A Lions are to be met in their own den. Greenville is coming as one of the main contenders for the district 6 title this year, and a real tussle is anticipated when these two teams clash. Greenville has weight, experience and fight this year, according to reliable information from that camp, and the Tigers will have plenty of competition on this occasion.

Texas Christian university Horned Frogs, last year's Southwestern conference champions, believe in securing plenty of early season competition. They have two games scheduled for this weekend. The Frogs meet the North will entertain the East Texas State Teachers college Friday at Denton, and on Saturday, State Teachers college in Fort Worth.

Three high school football teams of Corsicana will swing into action Friday afternoon and only light workouts were given the three elevens by the respective coaches Thursday afternoon.

The Corsicana Tigers have been sent through strenuous practice periods this week preparatory to their meeting the Ennis Lions, class B club, a member of district 14. The game will be called at 4 o'clock on Tiger field. A large attendance is expected as the fans desire to see how the Tigers look in action, and to get a line on the strength of the promising material, which includes a number of veterans.

Injuries have hit the Tigers. Paul Hall, half, is still out with an injured knee received last week. Nelson Ross, half, and J. W. Hornbeck, half, are out with strained ankles, and Joseph Bell, guard, has an injured knee. Season tickets will be on sale at the gate Friday afternoon.

Officials for the game Friday will be John P. Garlity, Texas A. and M. college, referee; Zebbie Howell, Trinity, umpire; and O. F. Allen, head linesman.

The chances of the State Orphan's Home Lads, twice district 14 champions, against the Cleburne Yellowjackets, were given a jolt when L. V. Knott, sensational fullback, fell out of the best backs in this section of the country, was lost to the club for several weeks with a broken right arm. It will be a severe blow, but Knott will stick to his white cap and go to the Johnson county capital and are not conceding defeat by a long shot. Masonic home of Fort Worth socked the Jackets, 10-0, in their game last week and the Jackets are likely to be in an ugly and fierce mood this week.

Odd Fellows to Malakoff

The Odd Fellows have been training for weeks and will journey to Malakoff Friday to open their season with the Malakoff Miners in what promises to be a real tussle. No injuries have been reported, and the full strength of the club will likely be available. The Odd Fellows have joined the district 14, interscholastic league, for the first time this season, the club having been content in former years to play independently. A good club has been whipped together at the Odd Fellows home this year.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 18.—(P)—Fort Worth, Texas league contenders for the baseball championship of the South, today stood one up on their Southern Association rivals, the Memphis Chickasaws, by right of a four to three victory in the opening game yesterday of the tenth annual Dixie series, the advantage gained in an inning when "everybody went wrong" for Memphis.

The statement was made when Henry was informed the Dallas chamber of commerce was asked to demand the resignation of E. F. Creekmore, general manager of the American Cotton Co. meeting of the chamber to be held this afternoon.

He said he would base his request for Creekmore's retirement upon "continued expressions of a pessimistic attitude."

The meeting at which Mr. Adams was to bring up the matter of advocating Creekmore's resignation was executive. United States Senator Tom Connally and Congressman Hiram W. Sumners of Dallas were present.

Mr. Adams said the meeting was executive because newspapers had carried a story about the purpose of the session. He said a statement he had previously made about the nature of the meeting was "unauthorized for publication."

There was considerable speculation if Mr. Adams would have the united support of the chamber of commerce directorate in his plan.

The statement was made when Henry was informed the Dallas chamber of commerce was asked to demand the resignation of E. F. Creekmore, general manager of the American Cotton Co. meeting of the chamber to be held this afternoon.

He said he would base his request for Creekmore's retirement upon "continued expressions of a pessimistic attitude."

The meeting at which Mr. Adams was to bring up the matter of advocating Creekmore's resignation was executive. United States Senator Tom Connally and Congressman Hiram W. Sumners of Dallas were present.

Mr. Adams said the meeting was executive because newspapers had carried a story about the purpose of the session. He said a statement he had previously made about the nature of the meeting was "unauthorized for publication."

There was considerable speculation if Mr. Adams would have the united support of the chamber of commerce directorate in his plan.

MOUNT VERNON, Sept. 18.—(P)—A jury was apparently deadlocked today on the guilt or innocence of the Rev. J. T. Smith, 71, Baptist minister, charged with murder in connection with the death last May of W. C. Lammons. The case was given to the jury late yesterday and since then no word had come from the men deliberating the aged man's fate. Lammons died of a broken neck after he had been struck with a shotgun. The men were said to have quarreled about the Rev. Mr. Smith's eligibility to sit on the school board, Lammons being a member.

TO RESUME NEGOTIATIONS
WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—(P)—The state department announced today conversations would be resumed with China looking toward a gradual relinquishment of the extra territorial jurisdiction, which allows United States citizens in local courts.

The tug Susan A. Morgan, carrying the race committee, steamed over to the disabled Shamrock as did the Erin, Sir Thomas Lipton's steam yacht.

The challenger's crew, however, hauled in their big sail alone, and then Captain Ned Heard turned his boat back toward the starting line, running ahead of the wind in only her topsails.

The rest of the big spectator fleet stayed close by for a few minutes and then set off after the Enterprise, footing it away for the 15-mile mark.

An official announcement from the committee boat said that the Shamrock had parted her main halyard. The committee said it could not be determined immediately whether the challenger would be able to race tomorrow.

Enterprise rounded the half way mark at 12:54:15. It had taken her two hours, 14 minutes and 15 seconds to complete the fifteen mile windward leg. She had ahead of her a 15 mile run back to the starting line in front of the wind.

Lipton Gives Up Hope
NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 17.—(P)—Sir Thomas Lipton, challenger of the America's cup without success since 1899, today gave up hope of victory in the current series when Shamrock V broke a main halyard, giving the defender Enterprise her third straight victory of the series. At the same time he indicated that he is challenging for the cup this year for the last time.

It seems that Shamrock cannot win, he said as he watched the mainmast float down on the green bodies sloop, ending her sailing for the day, less than an hour after the start of the race. He had no idea that the race should be sailed again, and agreed that Enterprise had won another contest.

"No single man in England can build a million dollar yacht alone and without that no one can hope to lift the America's cup," he said. "Hereafter it will have to be syndicate against syndicate."

SHAMROCK LOSES MAINSAIL SHORTLY AFTER RACE STARTS

THIRD RACE FOR AMERICA'S CUP ENDED DISASTROUSLY FOR CHALLENGER

BY TOM HORGAN
U. S. S. KANE, OFF
AMERICA'S CUP COURSE,
Sept. 17.—(P)—(By Radio to the Associated Press.)—

The American defender Enterprise crossed the finish line at 2:33:59 scoring a hollow victory in the third of the series of races for the America's cup.

The Shamrock lost her mainsail when a halyard parted three-quarters of an hour after the start and did not sail out the course.

Enterprise's short race for the thirty mile windward leeward course was three hours, 53 minutes and fifty-nine seconds, the best time recorded in the three races completed.

The American boat now needs only one more victory to assure the retention of the historic old mug on this side of the Atlantic, providing of course that today's race is declared a contest and the result allowed to stand.

There was quiet a fleet of spectators craft gathered at the finish but the welcome for the Enterprise was far from boisterous.

The two racing yachts had covered only about five miles of the course when the accident to Shamrock forced her to stop. She made an effort to continue the race but with only her topsails hauling she had no chance to overtake the fast moving American boat and she shortly gave up the unequal contest. She accepted a tow and started back for Newport harbor.

The mishap took all interest from the race and only a few boats followed Enterprise around the course.

U. S. S. KANE, Off America's Cup Course, Sept. 17.—(By Radio to the Associated Press.)—The third race of the series for the America's cup today ended disastrously for Shamrock V, the British challenger, three quarters of an hour after the start.

Footing it along on even terms with Enterprise, the defender, Shamrock lost her mainsail, which billowed down, half on her deck and half in the water. She immediately lost way and same about the main halyard, which holds the big wind to the mast head, had parted.

Enterprise started to come around when the mishap to Shamrock occurred, but then turned back on the course, apparently determined to sail out the race and claim the victory even though it be a walk over.

The tug Susan A. Morgan, carrying the race committee, steamed over to the disabled Shamrock as did the Erin, Sir Thomas Lipton's steam yacht.

The challenger's crew, however, hauled in their big sail alone, and then Captain Ned Heard turned his boat back toward the starting line, running ahead of the wind in only her topsails.
